

XM Radio has proven to be a valuable asset when traveling on the road. Typical AM/FM stations do not always provide current, detailed and accurate information related to traffic and weather and typically are not available once you leave the city limits. To restrict this service would in fact be a disservice to subscribers. Don't punish companies that choose to invest in today's technologies!!